Generation America

Dear Editor:

We're the new kid on the block offering a reasoned advocacy alternative for the over-50 segment of the American population. We're officially Generation America, Gen A for short.

Our movement was created with a sense of urgency. As we enter this new age, our government is spending our hard-earned tax dollars at an unprecedented rate. This massive federal bureaucracy is trying to pass laws that could severely affect our health care. Huge increases in taxes are inevitable as Congress spends as if there is no tomorrow.

And we're concerned for not only our peers, but for future generations that will find their future mortgaged because of today's rash actions.

As we have throughout our lives, we made a decision to act—to do something to ensure that we were heard. From this decision to speak out, Generation America was born.

We are a dynamic member-based organization for the over-50 generation. We believe in our natural right to freedom over our own lives, liberty and property. We also share a serious thirst for life and the unlimited human potential. We believe in the free market and the American dream.

First and foremost, we are the voice for those who have earned it. Generation America has spearheaded a mission to speak out in support of individual liberty and freedom for all Americans. Our team will work tirelessly to communicate our ideals and to fight for free-market solutions rather than government intervention.

At the same time, we believe that our members who join the cause should be rewarded. One of our primary goals is to bring added value through the best services and savings to our members. Over time as we grow we plan to create an incredible array of exciting services for our members' benefit.

Meanwhile, Generation America's enrichment team is working tirelessly to bring a variety of unique programs that speak to our members' values and beliefs, enhance their quality of life and foster their sense of community.

Finally, we want to ensure that those who come after us never forget the unique advantages of being an American. Generation America is committed to educating the youth of America on the principles that make our free-market system so effective. We are developing a plan to bring age-appropriate programs to the school children of America. We believe that some of the more basic precepts of history have been lost through time and we have a commitment to prepare our youth to be the leaders of tomorrow.

Gen A is excited about the community we are building. Our ultimate vision is that of an online society that extends and enhances many aspects of our lives.
